Positive Parenting

in a Negative World

6TH ANNUAL PARENTING CONFERENCE

Saturday, April 21, 2007
7:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

All parents and caregivers of children welcome!

Positive Parenting

in a Negative World

Parenting can be overwhelming in the best of times. And these days, it can be really tough out there. This one-day event can change your point of view, and give you valuable techniques to make parenting not only seem doable, but enjoyable.

Agenda and Speakers

7:30 - 8:30 a.m. Registration, exhibits, continental breakfast

8:30 - 8:45 a.m. Welcome

8:45 - 9:30 a.m. Raising Caring and Compassionate Children: Practical Views and Proven Strategies

Some say parenting is the most difficult and challenging job a person can have. It doesn't need to be if you know what to do.

Stephen Bavolek, PhD, President of Family Development Resources, Inc.; Executive Director, The Family Nurturing Centers

9:30 - 10:15 a.m. Promoting a Child's Well-Being: A Look at how Love and Emotional Connection Build Healthy Brains

Recent discoveries about the brain show a strong connection between caring relationships and brain development. Find out the simple things you can do to give your child a positive sense of well-being.

Joan Rosenberg, PhD, Director of Professional Training, Mindsight Institute

10:15 - 10:45 a.m. Break

10:45 - 12:15 p.m. Lessons from Jonesboro, Littleton, and Vietnam: How Kids are Learning to Kill and Learning to Like It

Colonel Grossman will speak on the impact that constant aggression is having on your children's everyday lives. TV and movie violence, and violent video games actually are training your kids in the skill of killing.

Lt. Colonel Dave Grossman, U.S. Army (Ret.); West Point Psychology Professor; Director, Killology Research Group

12:15 - 1:00 p.m. Closing, exhibits, door-prize drawing
